The President's Program Today

Paul Smith's, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP).—The President's program today will be to visit the White House and to meet with the cabinet.

Mr. Hays, head of the motion picture industry in the United States, and officials of Franklin county were among the callers on President Coolidge's program today.

Mr. Hays was invited to have luncheon at the White House and it was expected that he would discuss with the chief executive some of the problems confronting the motion picture industry as a result of foreign competition.

The officials of the county in which White Pine Camp is located, went to pay their respects to Mr. Coolidge before the conclusion of his Adirondack vacation, and arrangements were made to receive them at the executive office.

In addition to the formal callers, Mrs. Elmer Goodhue of Northampton, Mass., mother of Mrs. Coolidge, was expected at the camp for an informal visit. Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Stearns of Boston, personal friends of Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge, who have been guests there for several weeks, planned to leave during the day.

The chief executive is scheduled to visit the United States Veterans' Bureau Hospital at Tupper Lake tomorrow, provided business matters do not necessitate a postponement.

A report of general prosperity throughout the country was brought to the president yesterday by Matthew C. Brush of New York city, president of the American International Corporation. Mr. Brush, who is a director of several railroads, advocated a policy of non-interference with the railways of the country, and expressed his opposition to consolidation of systems by legislation.

Left to themselves, he asserted, the Interstate Commerce Commission and the executives of the roads could effect consolidation that would be economically sound.

After Mr. Brush's departure, President Coolidge collected his fishing tackle and motored twenty-five miles west of town.

He picked a new spot on the next to the last day of the open season, going to the preserve of Leroy West of New York city, where he had a good catch, returning to White Pine Camp after nightfall.

Flaherty Will Visit Coolidge

Sights of Columbus Head Will Visit President to Confer With Him on Mexican Situation.

Paul Smith's, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP).—James A. Flaherty, supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus will be invited by President Coolidge tomorrow for a discussion of the resolution adopted by that organization calling for American intervention in Mexico to protect Catholic churchmen in their religious dispute with President Calles of that country.

The appointment was made at the request of Mr. Flaherty, after he had conferred on the subject with Secretary Kellogg of the State Department at Washington.

The results of the Washington discussions have not been made public, but it was made clear at the summit White House at the time that Mr. Flaherty desired to see Mr. Coolidge after the meeting with Mr. Kellogg, he would be given an appointment.

Injured When Car Hit Tree

Charles H. Gordon, 65 years old, of Corona, New Jersey, was severely injured when a Cadillac car which was driving crashed into a tree at Highland Monday. Driving north at a rapid rate of speed his car skidded and crashed into a tree. The top of the car was wrecked and the car was damaged. The glass was shattered and the occupants were injured. The driver was killed.

Lost Her Shoes After the Ball

Added to That Miss Henrietta Strain Was Fined $10 for Public Intoxication—Had Attended Negro Ball at Mannechor Hall—Felt Its After Effects.

After the ball was over, just at the break of day, the police found Henrietta wandering, down old Wilbur way.

Gone were shoes from off her feet, and streaked and dirty were her stockings, once neat.

Placed in the police car and hurried to the city hall, the reader may rest assured Henrietta would not forget what happened after the ball.

For when she was brought before Judge Shufeldt in court, he fined her ten bucks which vainly she sought. Gone was her money and gone were her shoes, although she was over the effects of the booze.

It was drawing toward midnight Monday evening when the police department received a call from neighbors in the vicinity of Mannechor Hall on the Strand where some of the colored folks were staging a ball.

The neighbors stated that the racket was such that they were unable to repose in peace, and sought relief from the noise.

After several calls to the scene the police finally revoked the license and closed down on the ball, and the dancers wended their way homeward.

At least the majority of them did, but Miss Henrietta Strain, a negress, who resided at No. 63 Murray street, had evidently partaken too freely of the liquid her partner carried "on his hip" and shortly after 6 o'clock this morning the police were notified that there was a drunken woman wandering on Wilbur avenue.

Officers "Sims" Wood and Hicks were sent to the scene in the police car and found Henrietta wandering about in her stocking feet. They rushed her to police headquarters, where she was placed in the detention room where she promptly fell into troubled slumber.

About 9 o'clock she awoke to the realization that she was behind iron bars and that her shoes were missing. She accused the police of removing the shoes from her feet, but was assured that when brought in to the city hall her shoes were among the missing.

Minus her shoes she was forced to walk in her stocking feet into police court where she pleaded guilty to public intoxication. "I was at the ball, judge," said she, "and some one stole my shoes."

"Have you the money for your fine?" asked the court.

"No, sah," said she.

"Then you will have to serve one day in jail for each dollar of the fine unpaid," remarked the court as Henrietta was led away by Acting Sergeant Foot, still mourning over the loss of her shoes.

Junior Order Barbecue Sept. 18

The preparations for the barbecue and field day to be held at Forsyth Park on Saturday, September 18 by Charles DeWitt Council, No. 91, are well under way and indications are that an unusually large crowd will be at the park on this date.

The services of Mr. Von Berg, the popular manager of the Advance Restaurant, has been secured to prepare the barbecue. Everybody knows what Von is capable of doing in the culinary line so there is nothing more to say about this part of it.

People who have attended a barbecue prepared in true western style will come for miles to attend another. Those who have never tried this delicious viand have missed something that cannot be described. It has a flavor that can be procured in no other way than by roasting over coals in the open the way this is done.

On the afternoon preceding the barbecue a trench about twenty feet long by three feet wide and deep will be dug. In this several cords of hard wood will be burned to coals. After this is done the trench will be covered with a grate and about a foot of meat will be placed on it to roast. The sight when the meat is first placed over the coals is quite spectacular as the fat on the meat immediately bursts into flames, which leap a number of feet in the air. This is soon over and by this time the meat has been thoroughly charred and seared and the roasting commences. This is done over a slow fire of coals and continues for hours until continuously basted and turned at short intervals until it is done.

Victory House (Clubhouse). The annual clubhouse and outing of Victory House Company will be held at Golden Gate Inn on Sunday, September 12. Members of the company and the Ladies Auxiliary are requested to return their cards as soon as possible as no reservations will be made if cards are not received.

Regular Grand Banquet. The regular Wednesday night dance will be held at Lake Katrine Grange Hall tomorrow night. The members of the August committee are very much gratified at the support given them and take a whole dance will be in charge of Paul Zetter himself.

Los Angeles Has Engine Trouble

Great Navy Dirigible Has Break in Water Cooling System of One Engine—Returns from Monday's Flight.

Lakehurst, N. J., Aug. 31 (AP).—A break in the water cooling system of one of the engines of the navy dirigible Los Angeles occurred this morning after the giant airship had returned to her hangar from a trip southward for compass calibration tests.

The trouble was said to be not serious but the engine will be removed for repairs. The dirigible will resume her tests tomorrow.

The break was in engine number 3, one of the five with which the dirigible is equipped. The accident would not have affected the Los Angeles had she been in flight at the time, it was said, for she can navigate safely on three of the engines.

The Los Angeles had intended to remain in the air for further tests today off the Virginia Capes, but Commander C. E. Rosendahl decided to return here after a local electrical storm had arisen off Norfolk, Va., last night. The move was taken as an extra precaution.

The Los Angeles left the air station yesterday morning and successfully calibrated two shore stations, Bethany Beach, the last of the Delaware Cape stations, and the station at Virginia Beach.

The storm, localized off Norfolk, gave indication of continuing for four or five hours at 3:30 p. m. last night, so the commander, deciding to take no chances, pointed his craft homeward, the trip being without incident.

The dirigible arrived shortly after 3 a. m. and the engine trouble developed after she had been safely secured.

The work of repairing was started at once and if the weather continues favorable, the dirigible will start tomorrow morning to calibrate the stations at Hog Island and Cape Charles.

South Carolina Votes at Primary

First Democratic Primary is Being Held Today—American Adherence to World Court One of Issues Which Voters Will Pass Upon.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 31 (AP).—American adherence to the World Court was one of the issues which voters of South Carolina passed upon today as they went to the polls to express their choices for party nominations to the offices of senator, governor and others in the first Democratic primary.

Though nomination is considered equivalent to election, a second primary on September 14 may be necessary in contests where the leading candidate does not receive a majority of the votes cast.

Ellison D. Smith, three times a member of the United States Senate, entered a three-cornered battle for his seat with former Senator N. B. Dial of Laurens and Edgar A. Brown of Barnwell, speaker of the general assembly. The campaign through the summer was fought largely around Senator Smith's record, with Brown maintaining a continuous attack on the incumbent for his stand on agricultural policies. Brown also denounced the World Court as a "Republican creation" totally dissimilar from the league court endorsed by Woodrow Wilson and the party convention in 1924. He criticized Senator Smith's vote in favor of American participation in the court.

Senator Smith related his activities in the cotton futures law, Muscle Shoals, restrictive immigration and farm legislation in general, while he defended the World Court principle.

Former Senator Dial injected no personalities into his campaign, but insisted that his experience in the senate and as a business man qualified him for the post.

Nine candidates sought the governorship.

Rodgers Buried At Arlington

Famous Air Commander, Killed in Accident Last Week, Is Given Full Military Honors by Navy Department.

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP).—Full military honors were arranged by the navy department as it lay in state today to the last of that long line of "John Rodgers" who had given their lives in the service of the United States.

A year to the day after the giant zeppelin R-3, under his command, had flown from the quiet waters of San Pablo Bay, California, in the now famous attempt to span the Pacific to Hawaii by air, Commander John Rodgers, victim of a crash last Friday at Philadelphia, while landing on a flight from Washington, was borne toward his final resting place amid the rolling hills of Arlington National Cemetery.

These honors included a military escort of three companies of marines and sailors. The navy band, and a squadron of planes circling overhead.

KNOX SAYS HE SLIPPED; WIFE DIDN'T THROW GLASS. Washington, Aug. 31 (AP).—Phillander Knox, Jr., son of the former secretary of state and United States senator from Pennsylvania, took issue today with the police report version which credited his wife, Mrs. Josephine Knox, with having thrown a water glass at him early Sunday and cutting his right arm.

Knox said that the real cause of his injury, which had sent him to a hospital, was a slip on the wet bath room floor while he had a glass in his hand and was seeking a drink of water.

"There is no mutual trouble at all," Knox said. Meanwhile the police maintained their version of the incident was correct.

Columbia County Fair. H. J. Hergen, who is visiting the large city of Northern New York, advertising the Columbia county fair to be held at Chatham next week, was in town today. Mr. Hergen's unique argument was the topic of much discussion by all who saw him.

Knox's Own New Sign. A very attractive and modern sign has been placed across the front of the newly enlarged store of the G. R. Knox Co. Inc., shoe and hat store, 104 Wall street, over the top of the flying windows and wide entrance way.

Natives and New Yorkers Don't Mix

At Least That Appears to Be the Case in the Village of Fleischmanns—More Facts About the Gang War.

Residents of Fleischmanns are much interested in the outcome of the recent trouble which took place in the village when two gangs met and staged a battle royal at mid night. The trouble arose so quickly and created so much action while it lasted that few villagers were close enough to the scene to determine what the trouble was.

Someone sent in word for the State Troopers when the trouble started and although they arrived in quick time the fight had stopped and the fighters disappeared. However, later, after an investigation, four men were placed under arrest on a charge of assault. A hearing will be held on September 2 before Justice Mayes.

It appears that for some time there has been trouble brewing between two gangs of residents, one composed of villagers and the other composed of New York men who have been spending the summer season in the village. It is alleged that certain slot machines which have been operating in the village were frequently raided the machines and took the money which they found. Some machines, it is alleged, were stolen, taken away, broken open and the money taken by the rival gang.

The recent trouble arose when members of the two gangs met and accused each other of certain acts. No one was seriously injured although one member is said to have been roughly handled and shots were fired.

Following the affair the machines, if there were any, have mysteriously disappeared from that part of the country and slot machines can no longer be found in the village.

Think Canton 'Key Man' Was Killed

Further Investigation of Canton Murder Leads to Belief That McDermott, 'Key Man', Was Murdered on July 28.

Cleveland, Aug. 31 (AP).—Investigation into the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, took a new turn today, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer, with the report that new evidence, which points to the murder of Patrick Eugene McDermott, missing "key man" of the investigation, had been uncovered.

It was said that statements of a woman living in a town near Canton made to authorities indicated that McDermott was murdered July 28, and that his body was shipped to New York in a trunk.

The clue, uncovered, it was said, through tracing McDermott's movements after the Mellett murder, led deeper into the underworld which has figured in the investigation from the start and implicated the unknown "higher up" who investigators feel, incited the plot against the crusading publisher.

Hunt For Landlady. Cleveland authorities, investigating McDermott's movements, here, have redoubled their search for Mrs. Catherine Barnes, 41, in whose rooming house McDermott was lodged to have lived at the time of the murder. After the Mellett murder, McDermott, while living there, and to have left shortly afterward. Authorities have been unable to trace his movements after the receipt of the telegram and it is believed that it led him to his death. The telegram was said to be in the hands of the authorities.

Mrs. Barnes, with Baby Cavanaugh, 23, and Thelma Davis, 19, who knew McDermott, disappeared at the beginning of the Stark county grand jury investigation of the killing and police have been unable to serve subpoenas compelling them to testify.

The World Court, the tariff and Coolidge were keynotes of the contest for the Republican nomination for United States senator, in which Samuel M. Shortridge, incumbent, is opposed by Robert M. Clarke, and Representative Walter F. Lineberger. Shortridge, seeking a second term on a platform of protective tariff for California products, has stressed his consistent support of President Coolidge and the Republican platform. Clarke backed by Hiram Johnson, Shortridge's colleague in the Senate, has made his campaign on an anti-World Court platform. Lineberger also has attacked Shortridge in addition to his own advocacy of strict prohibition enforcement. He is endorsed by the Anti-Saloon League.

In the Republican gubernatorial contest Lieutenant-Governor C. C. Young, also actively supported by Senator Johnson, opposed Governor Friend W. Richardson. For Young, Senator Johnson attacked the Richardson administration as extravagant and reactionary and declared Young's election would mean the return of progressive government in California. Reed Goodell for collector of internal revenue at Los Angeles is among the four other candidates opposing Richardson.

Tammany was the issue on which candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial and senatorial nominations locked horns. It was injected into the campaign by John D. Elliott, backed by William Gibbs McAdoo, Elliott and Carl Alexander Johnson, the McAdoo candidate for governor, accused their opponents, Eugene Lockwood and James B. Wardell of furthering a Tammany Hall plot to capture the Democratic party and secure Governor Al Smith the presidential nomination in 1928. Lockwood and Wardell, informed for senator and governor by a "special" conference of Democrats, retorted that Elliott and Johnson were not power in McAdoo's plan to win the 1928 presidential nomination but failed to get in 1924.

The president, it was said today, will take it up when it comes to him and give it careful consideration. The measure was passed finally yesterday at Manila, over the veto of Governor General Wood. The president will have six months in which to approve or disapprove it.

Rotary Traffic Averts Conflicts

Since the time that the traffic problem has become acute it has been the dream of those attempting to solve its difficulties to find some system whereby vehicles on one street would not have to be stopped in order that vehicles on a cross street might pass. Such a plan would seem impossible yet to some degree it can be accomplished by what is known as rotary or gyratory control.

This type of regulation is obtained by placing a large circle in the center of the street intersection and requiring that all vehicles desiring to pass through the intersection shall pass to the right around this circle in this manner. It is clear that vehicles need not cross the paths of other vehicles and therefore there need be no stopping.

It will immediately appear that the efficiency of rotary traffic control will depend to a considerable extent upon the amount of space which is available for the circle. If it is too small it will have no more effect than would a large intersection button. On the other hand if the circle can be made very large traffic can rotate in an easy curve without interference.

The best examples of rotary traffic are to be found in Washington, D. C. As a result of the original plan for the capital by Major L'Enfant, there are occasional places where diagonal streets meet at an intersection in which there has been placed a small circular park. Traffic entering these large intersections rotates without need for a stop and no regulation.

The average right angle street intersection is not suited to rotary movement for the size of the center circle would be too small for effective operation. Practically every city has a number of examples of irregular street intersections with comparatively large areas. At these places traffic tends to become spread and confused unless it is directed. The installation of a circle in the center of such intersection will often aid to the smoothness of flow and to safety.

Ordinarily the circle installed for rotary control should not be less than seventy-five feet in diameter. The most effective size and location for the installation can be easily determined by experimenting with a circle of sand bags, before the permanent structure is made. Signs should, of course, be erected at all necessary points directing drivers to pass around to the right. If the permanent installation is of such a character as to endanger traffic at night, it should be adequately lighted.

Great Interest in California Vote

Coolidge, Smith, and McAdoo All Figure in California Primary Election Today—Hiram Johnson Has Also Played Important Part.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 31 (AP).—National issues and figures shared the spot light with local personalities and problems as balloting began in California's primary election today.

The World Court, the tariff and Coolidge were keynotes of the contest for the Republican nomination for United States senator, in which Samuel M. Shortridge, incumbent, is opposed by Robert M. Clarke, and Representative Walter F. Lineberger. Shortridge, seeking a second term on a platform of protective tariff for California products, has stressed his consistent support of President Coolidge and the Republican platform. ## Swimmers Send Out Challenges

Many Channel Swimmers Challenge But No One Accepts—New York Planning Welcome for Mrs. Corson.

New York, Aug. 31 (AP).—Swimmers of the English Channel today were maneuvering for further honors and emoluments.

Gertrude Ederle, first woman conqueror of the turbulent waters, has cabled Ernest Vierkoetter, German baker, who beat her time record yesterday, congratulating him and challenging him to a race across the same course next year to "bring the record back to her sex and country". Vierkoetter lowered Miss Ederle's record of 14 hours and 31 minutes to 12 hours and 13 minutes. He is in Calais, where he returned after landing near Dover.

Mrs. Corson Issues Challenge. Mrs. Clementine Corson, better known by her maiden name of Mille Gade, is still in Dover and has challenged Miss Ederle and Vierkoetter to a three-cornered channel race for a $50,000 purse. She believes she can best either of them under the same weather conditions, although her time, as second woman conqueror of the channel was 15 hours and 32 minutes.

Miss Barrett Will Challenge. Miss Charlotte Barrett, sailing for home today from Cherbourg on the Leviathan, plans to challenge Miss Ederle and Mrs. Corson to a long distance swim upon her arrival in New York. Miss Barrett had to surrender to the channel after swimming 12 miles in heavy tides for 22 hours.

Not Many Acceptances. While challenges fly, acceptances have not been so much in evidence. Dudley Field Malone, acting for Miss Ederle, declined a challenge by Mrs. Corson for a 12 mile race around Manhattan Island. "As soon as any woman breaks Miss Ederle's record," he said, "it will then be time enough to discuss a match to decide who is champion."

New York city is planning an official welcome for Mrs. Corson when she returns. A committee of mothers will be appointed to meet her in recognition of the fact that she has two children.

Miss Whelan's Condition Good

Driver of Motorcycle, Which Struck Girl, Had Substituted a Candle For Headlight, Which Was Out of Order.

The condition of Miss Betty Whelan who was struck by a motorcycle at Woodstock Sunday evening, was reported as very good at the Benedictine Hospital this morning where she was taken after receiving first aid from Dr. M. B. Downer. At first it was thought her condition was serious and Joseph Lukacs, the driver of the motorcycle was held for ten days to await the outcome of her injuries. Lukacs, who was arrested on a charge of reckless driving by Sergeant Cunningham and Trooper Coons, was driving his motorcycle through the village at the time with only a candle to guide his machine. The headlight was out of order and Joseph had substituted a candle in the light instead of the usual means of light.

Although Lukacs is but 17 years old he held an operator's license No. 1561 issued in the state of New Jersey. His cycle license was C559 N. J.

Kelly Collapsed While at Work

While at work in Thomson's Laundry on Clinton avenue on Monday afternoon John J. Kelly of No. 14 Stayestown street, suddenly collapsed and fell to the floor unconscious. In falling he struck his head, sustaining a minor abrasion. It is thought that in falling his body came in contact with part of the machinery, causing him to fall.

Followers who saw him fall rushed to his aid and found him unconscious. The police were notified and the city ambulance in charge of Officers Keegan and Hicks made a second run to him. Mr. Kelly from the laundry to the Kingston City Hospital in about ten minutes, where he was given treatment for shock by Dr. A. A. Stein.

Shortly after midnight this morning he had regained consciousness and later in the morning it was stated at the hospital that his condition was favorable.

New car owners meet the "film of protection"

THE parts of a new motor have scarcely become acquainted. There are rough spots that must be smoothed out by mutual contact. They must work together until they get along with as little friction as old friends—they need the help of the finest motor oil.

A motor-oil does its work by forming a thin film between all the whirling, flying motor surfaces. As long as the film remains unbroken the vital parts of your motor are protected from the deadly heat and friction to which they are constantly subjected every mile you drive. But there is a vast difference in the character of oil films.

The "film of protection"

Because the answer to the whole problem of correct lubrication lies in the protective film of oil, Tide Water spent years studying oil films. Finally they perfected the Veedol "film of protection"—thin as tissue, smooth as silk, tough as steel. A film that offers the utmost resistance to heat and friction.

With such a "film of protection", it is easy to see why a multitude of car-owners use nothing but Veedol in their new motors. Go to a dealer who displays the orange and black Veedol sign. Have your crankcase drained and refilled with the correct Veedol oil for your particular make of car.

Then, you can be sure that during the critical breaking-in miles, your motor will have the added safeguard of the "film of protection". Be sure to ask for Veedol by name.

Hotel Employees Refused Wages

A number of hotel and summer boarding house employees in Sullivan county are apparently having difficulty in collecting their summer wages. So many complaints have been made that Mrs. Lillian R. Sire, director of the Division of Alien's, State Department of Labor, has been sent to Monticello to investigate the complaints. Walters and other hotel employees claim they are refused their wages or given but a portion of their contracted wages when they leave the jobs.

Over 150 complaints have been made and a hearing for September 3 has been arranged for to examine into the complaints. James H. Hamilton, of the Industrial Commission of the Department of Labor, will also be in Monticello on September 14 to discuss the situation and investigate the proposition of opening a sub-division of the Department of Labor there.

Cheese in the Plural

Dr. Frank Vizetelly, editor of Funk & Wagnall's, says that "The plural of cheese is cheeses. It dates from 1800, and may be found in Langland's 'Vision of Piers Plowman'—'Twey grene cheeses.' The plural is used in instances where various varieties are considered, or numbers are specified: 'The cheesemonger stocks cheeses of all types—American Brie, Camembert, Cheddar, Dutch, Edam and many others.' The farmer had 50 cheeses in his cheeseroom." In speaking of the article in its attributive sense of referring to it in bulk, the singular form of the word is correct, thus: 'Cheese sandwiches'; 'great quantities of cheese'; 'the cheese market.'

A James Toast

Henry James was once dining with Theodore Cook, author of "The Run-It Hours," on the latter's birthday. Lifting his glass of port, he rose with piousness.

"My dear Theodore," he began, "I hold in my hand a glass, perhaps I should say goblet, to the brim with a fluid which has a poisonous and practically fatal effect on every nerve of my body; but I am asked to propose your health and if you imagine—if your friends here imagine—that by one scintilla it may be anguished, I will drink it to the gods."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Sorts Cigars Quickly

Sixty times a minute a new cigarette machine picks up a cigar, looks at it and selects the compartment where it belongs, according to the shade of its brown coloring. Mechanism then deposits it in the proper place. The new device, which is being utilized by several cigar manufacturers, is actuated by a photoelectric cell, similar to those used in television. Light from the cigar falls on the sensitive alkali metal coating inside the cell, resulting in a shower of electrons which, properly controlled in an electric circuit, act on a relay circuit.

LAST NIGHT on THE RADIO

Static that waxed and waned and signals very erratic in the direction from which they came failed to weaken DX reception last night although strong nearby stations faded and distorted at times. Between 7:30 and 8 this condition was at its height and to it was added one of the most persistent and diabolical of dial-twisting bloopers.

One of the best was the WJZ Maxwell Hour.

Later DX stations lost to most fans since last spring came in well. Included in these were KMOX, St. Louis; KFKX, Hastings, Neb., where a tireless municipal band played interminable medleys; WJBL, Decatur, Ill., where a mighty chorus sang "Illinois" and "My Wild Irish Rose," accompanied by static that would make any rose wild enough to bite a lion; WIBC, Valparaiso, Ind., a station owned by a Lutheran Church that interprets the call letters to mean "World Redeemed By Christ"; and which devoted much time to announcing later of county fairs. WCCO, WCX, WWJ, WSAI, WTAM, WLW and the pestiferous WBAL, which spread over a dozen numbers.

WPG, exceedingly clear, was right on the mark, not the least spreading and no difficulty in tuning in WMSG and KDKA.

Speaking of the way call letters are tortured into indicating some slogan, how can a slogan be made to fit WDBZ? If a "G" were substituted for "Z" it would be easy—"We Do By Gosh", for instance.

The largest audience that has yet listened to any singer is expected to hear Mary Lewis, famous soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, when she broadcasts simultaneously from 33 stations throughout the country, on the night of September 15. The occasion is the annual Radio Industries Banquet held in connection with the New York radio show, at which Miss Lewis will be the headliner, singing through the courtesy of A. Atwater Kent, whose big series of winter concerts will soon be announced. More than fifteen million people will hear Miss Lewis sing on this occasion, it has been estimated.

Early Telephoning

In the early days of the telephone long-distance talks were made over what were known as "extra territorial telephones." The majority of subscribers, when they desired to be connected with long distance, went to the local telephone office to have the call put through.

"Oldest" Heating System Found

What is believed to be the oldest heating apparatus in this country has just been discovered in Christ Church parish, Tarrytown-on-Hudson. According to well authenticated records, this apparatus was presented to the church by Washington Irving who, for many years was a member and warden of the church.

Christ Church parish was built in 1836. From that year until 1850 it was heated by the old type stove, after which Washington Irving presented a complete warm air heating system and had it installed in the church. From 1850 until 1926 this system has been in constant use and is now being replaced by a modern furnace because necessary repairs to the old furnace are no longer manufactured.

Earle Parker O'Brien, a warden of the church, has taken a personal interest in the old furnace as well as other details of the church so intimately connected with the life of Irving.

"Thousands visit the church every year," Mr. O'Brien said, "and to the larger groups I have been making the Washington Irving address. Very recently I told them that we are now obliged to replace our old heating plant after seventy-six years of use and which tradition says was given to us by Washington Irving."

In the church remains the original pew occupied by Irving over which is now a tablet to his memory. The outside of the building is now almost completely covered with ivy. This grew from half a cutting given to Irving by Sir Walter Scott when Irving was his guest of Abbotsford. The other half now grows on "Sunny-side", Irving's home on the banks of the Hudson. Also in the church may be seen the pewter communion service sent from England as a gift to the church from Irving.

While thousands visit the church every year, it is only since the old furnace has had to be replaced that the value of the church as an historic shrine has become fully realized by many historians and those interested in the early history of the Hudson valley.

"Thoroughbreds"

A horse is termed thoroughbred if he has had an ancestry of noted stock recorded in the stud book for several generations (five in America and seven in England). All thoroughbreds are not descended from one stallion. All race horses are thoroughbreds, but not all thoroughbreds are race horses. Thoroughbred means descended from pure blood and pure stock.

Quake Reported In the Azores

Definite information secured by the fact that the quake had occurred—several in history of islands. Says American Consul, London, Aug. 31 (AP).—Private ad- from Horta, on the island of Azores, report a heavy earthquake in Azores. First reports said much damage had been done.

A further report to a London busi- house from a point three miles outside the town of Horta said there had been an unusually severe quake. It was feared the island had suffered considerably, but there was no definite information beyond the fact that the quake had occurred.

Fayal is the westernmost island of the central group of the Azores. It is volcanic origin, and, like the other islands of the group, has been visited by earthquakes from time to time. The population of the island is about 25,000, mostly of Portuguese blood.

A cable operator in the Fayal re- office notified the company's Lon- headquarters that his battery room was destroyed, and expressed opinion, that, if there was another shock, the whole building would collapse.

No Response From Fayal.

New York, Aug. 31 (AP).—Opera- of the French Telegraph Cable company, making an early morning today of their Trans-Atlantic cable that runs from this city to France, through an automatic station on the island of Fayal, found there was no response from the relay. They were notified from the Horta office that there had been an earthquake at Fayal and the town (presumably Horta) was seriously damaged. Later the automatic relay began operating again, indicating the danger was past.

Cable operators invariably refer their station at Fayal through the town is known as Horta.

Americans Believed Safe.

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP).—The worst earthquake in the history of the islands, shook the Azores, American Consul Horace Remillard reported to the state department from Horta. All Americans, he said, were believed to be safe.

Deaths Reported.

Lisbon, Portugal, Aug. 31 (AP).—A violent earthquake which shook the island of Fayal in the Azores today killed part of the town of Horta. There were some deaths, dispatches say, and many were injured. Details are lacking.

Unable to Identify Suspects.

Buffalo, Aug. 31 (AP).—Witnesses the holdup at the Jefferson-Ferry Bank branch yesterday, when a gang of bandits secured $9,000, have been unable to identify any of the five men held here as suspects. Detective Chief Roche announced today.

SMITH FOUND DEAD IN BED NEAR BINNEWATER

Coroner Conner was notified Monday evening shortly before 9 o'clock that a man had been found dead in bed at Binnewater. He immediately went to the scene and found William Bruyn, who resided on Sawdust avenue, dead in his bed, evidently having died of heart trouble while asleep. Neighbors had missed Mr. Bruyn about since Saturday and Monday afternoon someone went to the place and looking through the window saw him lying in bed.

Deputy Sheriff John Dellar of Rosendale was notified and went to the house where after being unable to arouse Mr. Bruyn he broke open the door and entered the house to discover that Mr. Bruyn was dead. From appearances he had been dead at least 24 hours.

Coroner Conner after investigating turned the body over to undertaker McCordie of Rosendale and an attempt was made to locate relatives in New York. Bruyn had resided alone at Binnewater for some time.

COOLIDGE THINKS SENATE WILL STAY IN COURT

Paul Smith's, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP).—No likelihood of the Senate reversing itself on the question of American entrance to the permanent court of international justice is seen by President Coolidge, who considers that question settled by the Senate.

While it was said today at the Summer White House that Mr. Coolidge did not know of the attitude of Senators Gooding, Republican, Idaho, and Trammell, Democrat, Florida, who voted for American adherence to the court and now have changed their views, it was remarked by officials that perhaps it would be just as well to wait until after the fall elections and see what the final attitude of those in public office may be on the matter.

Our Growing Population.

Will Not Change Policy on Debts

Although President Roosevelt's Opinion of Newton D. Baker He Feels It Is Easier to Make Such Proposals Out of Office Than in Office.

Paul Smith's, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP).—President Coolidge knows of no reason for making any change in the government policy toward the foreign war time debts owed the United States.

While he has not read the proposal of Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war for a revision of the debts, or even cancellation, it was said at the summer White House today that Mr. Coolidge believed the Washington government had taken an attitude in the matter that would not be changed.

All of the great powers with one exception, it was added, had funded their debts to the United States and it is apparent to Mr. Coolidge that France will adjust its debt in accordance with the agreement reached by its duly authorized representatives in negotiation with American officials.

The money, it was emphasized, will have to be paid by the American taxpayers unless it is paid by the taxpayers of the countries that borrowed it.

The president, it was said, respects the sincerity, judgment and patriotism of Mr. Baker, yet he realizes it is some times easier for a person in private life, who is no longer charged with the responsibility of administering public affairs, to suggest large expenditures of the taxpayers' money than it is for those responsible for the collection of money or payment of it out of the taxpayers' pockets.

PLAN TO TAKE VALENTINO'S BODY BACK TO HOLLYWOOD.

New York, Aug. 31 (AP).—Plans to ship the body of Rudolph Valentino to Hollywood were assuming concrete form here today, although decision rests with the screen sheik's brother, Alberto Guglielmi, who arrives from Europe tomorrow on the liner Homer.

George Ullman, Valentino's manager, said that a special car had already been engaged for the trip. He and Mrs. Ullman, and Pola Negri, the Polish actress who announced her engagement to the "great lover" of the films, and who came here from Los Angeles to attend the funeral services yesterday, will accompany the body.

Mac Millan Will Return Soon.

Portland, Me., Aug. 31 (AP).—Commander Donald B. MacMillan, returning from a three months' expedition to the sub-Arctic to collect specimens for the Field Museum at Chicago, expects to be back in Christmas Cove, near Wiscasset, Maine, in ten days, according to a radiogram received today by D. W. Hoegs, of the Evening Express. He planned to sail today to Sydney, N. S., from Batle Harbor, Labrador, with the schooners Bowdoin and Sachem.

Say Hall's Wife Was Threatened

Prosecution Say They Have Affidavit Which Says That Willie Stevens Threatened Life of Rev. Edward Hall, New Brunswick Pastor.

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 31 (AP).—Rev. Edward W. Hall, slain with his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, on the lonely Phillips farm near New Brunswick, September 14, 1922, told a friend, Rev. Paul Hamborsky, before he was murdered that Willie Stevens, his brother-in-law, had threatened his life, an affidavit made public today by State investigators revealed.

Stevens is a brother of Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, the slain pastor's widow, who is free in $15,000 bail on a murder charge. Willie Stevens and Henry de La Bruyere Carpenter, brother and cousin, respectively of Mrs. Hall, also accused of murder are awaiting grand jury action in the Somerset county jail.

Hunt For Fingerprints.

Clothing found on the bodies of Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills as they lay side by side after the slayings today were locked in a safe at police headquarters to be examined by experts to determine whether the murderer or murderers left fingerprints on the fabrics.

Confirmation of a report that Director of Public Safety Beggans of Jersey City, one of the investigators, had ordered the fingerprinting of Mr. Hall and Willie Stevens could not be obtained today.

Senator Simpson, special prosecutor in charge of the re-opened investigation, said it was a police matter.

Hays Wants Movies Filed

In Government Archives Building That is to Be Erected in Washington—Thinks Historic Films Should Be Kept.

Paul Smith's, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP).—The advisability of providing space in the new government archives building that is to be erected in Washington for motion picture films of historic events, was discussed by President Coolidge today by Will H. Hays of New York city, "czar" of the movies, during a call at the summer White House.

Any final views of the president on the matter were not indicated.

The need for storing such films under complete safety conditions with government supervision, was emphasized by Mr. Hays, who remarked upon the importance to prosperity of the films. Think, he said, of the value that would be attached today to a motion picture of Lincoln delivering his Gettysburg address.

The films that would be placed under government protection go back to the time when Theodore Roosevelt was active in public life and include many of the World War, picturing such scenes as the signing of the peace treaty at Versailles and the return of General Pershing. There are also many of presidential inaugurations.

Looks for New Medical Science

Future Army Surgeons Predict That Future Wars Will Bring About Development of Entirely New Medical Science.

New York, Aug. 31 (AP).—Wars of the future may bring about the development of an entirely new medical science, in the opinion of a veteran army surgeon of seven campaigns.

Former Major Louis Livingston Seaman, who has served in every American campaign since the Spanish-American War and in the armies of Japan and Belgium, sees in the development of chemical warfare a new enemy for the medical world to tackle. Soldiers' wounds in future wars, said the 76-year-old veteran, probably will be of a nature little known today.

Major Seaman, who recently returned to his home in New York after a tour of Europe as president of the American Surgeons' Travel Club, traced the development of army medical science as he observed it.

The greatest knowledge of antiseptics today was cited as medical science's greatest stride in saving the lot of those brought down in battle.

(An Use Many Antiseptics.

"Where raw carbolic acid, available on rare occasions, formerly was the best that medical science could use on mortifying gunshot and sword wounds," he said, "today a whole gamut of antiseptics can be brought to the aid of nature in keeping a wound clean."

"Though wounds are worse now than formerly, they are in many ways more merciful. Unless a man is torn to pieces by the cruel new inventions of war and killed instantly, the newer knowledge of medical treatment may hope to save him."

Better feeding of modern soldiers has been a principal factor in reducing mortality among armies, he said.

"Good rationing has cut down the deaths from preventable war-time diseases almost to nothing," he said.

LAMB AND MUTTON

Mutton is so well liked in England and used so freely that it seems strange that we in America cannot serve it often and more freely.

When mutton is properly killed and cared for there is no objectionable woolly flavor. The meat should never be touched with the hands after handling the wool, as the wool grows on the skin and the oil from it flavors the meat. Remove the skin carefully before cooking.

Roast Leg of Lamb.—Rub salt, pepper and onion with dry sweet fat all over the meat. Place in a roasting pan and sear it well in a hot oven. Now add one-half cupful each of water and sliced onion, one cupful of sliced tomatoes, eight peeled potatoes around the leg of lamb. Roast in a hot oven and serve very hot with a gravy made from the liquor in the pan. Mint sauce may be served with the lamb. To prepare it, mince a half cupful of mint and pour over it a tablespoonful of boiling water, cover and let stand, adding a tablespoonful of vinegar and a little sugar to serve.

Mutton Stew.—Put a neck piece of mutton on to stew in boiling water with a small onion. Simmer until tender, then add a can of peas, thickened with the liquor in the pan, and pour over the peas and mutton a half cupful of vinegar, one-third cupful of currant jelly and one-fourth teaspoonful of mustard. Cook until the lamb is well-browned and favored.

Barbecued Lamb.—Cut cold roast lamb into slices and reheat them in the following sauce: Two tablespoonfuls of butter, one-half tablespoonful of vinegar, one-third cupful of currant jelly and one-fourth teaspoonful of mustard. Cook until the lamb is well-browned and favored.

Shirring continues to play a decorative part in the mode—Velvet and Velveteen are impressive in Fall Collections With Satin Croques.

The uses of shirring are by no means limited. One has no difficulty in shirring with good effect most of the light weight fabrics in vogue, not excepting velvets, artificial and otherwise.

The international success of an all-over shirred georgette evening wrap is admitted, and early fall collections show a tendency to employ shirring, if not in all-over effects, at least for well-fitted shoulder, or yoke treatments. Of course, clever manipulations of fabrics—self-banding, smocking, shirring, pleating, and applique—are nothing new under the sartorial sun, yet they continue to intrigue because of the apparently inexhaustible wealth of ideas constantly expressed in fashionable fabrics.

It does not argue, of course, that, because summer has waned, one should lay aside chiffons and geor-

EVERY STYLE PROGRAM INCLUDES ONE GAY TUNIC BLOUSE OR MORE

IT REQUIRES more than one blouse or tunic to complete a stylishly appointed wardrobe. A blouse for every occasion is not an extravagance, but rather an evidence of careful thought. A sports blouse for outings and practical wear, a suit-blouse for one's tailored street costume, a dressy blouse or tunic, gay in coloring, to wear over one's plaited black satin princess slip or a handsome lace tunic which is the mode's latest word, these and a few extras for one's white plaited skirt are none too many if one would be dressed at a moment's call.

The latest sports blouse, which after all is not so much a blouse as a waistcoat type is made of checked linen twirling with a plain back and just below-the-shoulder sleeves, which is almost equivalent to saying sleeveless.

To wear over a black plaited foundation choose a tunic of striking color. One cannot go too recklessly in the matter of bizarre coloring. The model in the picture features a gorgeous embroidery done after the manner of the handwork and colorings which so glorify the Spanish shawl. Some stylized go so far as to add fringe, which further emphasizes the Spanish influence. Note in the picture that the giraffe shows a plaited panel. This is something new and matching the skirt as it does the tendency is to give the impression of a composite costume rather than a separate blouse and skirt.

If you have never owned a lace tunic or blouse do not let the season go by without acquiring one. They are a real asset in one's collection.

Wonder Railway

The Buenos Ayres and Pacific railway is probably the most wonderful in the world.

Though the two terminal, Buenos Ayres and Valparaiso, are tropical towns, the line, owing to the immense elevation it attains in crossing the Andes, runs for hundreds of miles through a region of eternal snow, and is frequently blocked by avalanches.

Amongst its wonders is a spiral tunnel that cost $5,000,000 to build, a natural bridge of rock, and a string of 115 steel bridges linked together by short stretches of solid permanent way.

Happiness
To watch the corn grow and the blossoms set, to draw hard breath over plowshares and spade, to read, to think to love, to hope to play, these are the things that make men happy.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

MRS. COW

"Moo, moo," said Mrs. Cow to Miss Cow, and as Miss Cow had very excellent manners she replied in her best cow voice: "Moo, moo, I hope you are quite well."

"Yes, thank you," said Mrs. Cow. "I am. This weather is simply delightful."

"Even the evenings are nice. I can lie out in the pasture after milking time is over and can be cool without being cold."

After lunch, "I can chew my cud and think of the happy days of the summer time which we are now beginning to enjoy and which we will continue to enjoy for some time to come."

"I can sleep and wake up feeling refreshed when it is time for morning milking."

"You see, Miss Cow, I enjoy life because I do not spend my time grumbling about this and that and because I do not care about dashing about all the time."

"I see people dashing by in automobiles. Sometimes they stop by the side of the pasture and eat their lunch."

"You would think they would have a good time. Sometimes they do."

"Sometimes they stay around after lunch and the fathers smoke their pipes and perhaps take little naps and the mothers take their time about putting the lunch things away, and the children play, and maybe go in wading."

"They don't hurry right off in their automobiles again."

"But there are others who are always in such a hurry that they never enjoy anything."

"I've seen many of them."

"They stop here for lunch and sometimes they are in such a hurry that they do not even get out of their automobiles to eat."

"They sit right where they have been sitting while they have been riding and they eat as quickly as they can."

"The children ask to go wading and the parents say: 'There isn't time. We can't make the next place and get home before dark if you stop to go wading.'"

"So the children look sad and disappointed and they all go hurrying off again."

"They get started before they have even finished eating. They are having their fruit or their cake while they are driving off and the one who is driving the car has some one feed him bits of cake or bites of banana as he drives."

"But what I think is so foolish is that they should always be trying to go as far as they can."

"When they have gone as far as they can in as short a time as they can and get back home again they are tired and maybe they are cross and the whole day has been, to my cow way of thinking, quite unsuccessful."

"Why isn't it better to plan to go only a little distance and take enjoyment out of that little distance?"

"Why isn't it better to go slowly so those who are riding can see the trees and the flowers, the blue sky and the fluffy white clouds?"

"Why isn't it better to stop and have a real picnic instead of one of those hurried meals?"

"Why isn't it better to get out and rest and enjoy the beautiful country, the streams, the rivers, the ponds, the lakes, the woods, than to go hurrying, hurrying by so quickly that lakes and woods and flowers and beautiful scenery are passed without being noticed?"

"What is the point of riding through the country if it is not to enjoy the country, and how can the country be enjoyed when people spend all their effort in just being able to say they have gone such and such a great number of miles?"

"Truly I cannot understand it. Here I am, chewing contentedly, satisfied with my pasture, the stream, and that grove of woods just beyond the pasture."

"But then I'm a simple cow and I can't understand the rubbing wings of a pigeon."

"No more can I," said Miss Cow. "Moo, moo, I agree with you."

Just Presiding

Thomas came in from the play with his rumpus, rumpus, rumpus, and rumpus. His mother happened to be sitting, when the boy came in, and she said to him, 'Now, Thomas, if you can't get out of one another's way.'

At the same time, the boy came in, and she said to him, 'Now, Thomas, if you can't get out of one another's way.'

GAS BUGGIES or HEN AND AMY—More Trouble.

Bill Smith, a country shopkeeper, went to the city to buy goods. They were sent immediately and reached home before he did. When the boxes were delivered, Mrs. Smith, who was keeping the shop, uttered a scream, seized a hatchet, and began frantically to open the largest one.

"What's the matter, Sarah?" asked one of the bystanders, who had watched her in amazement. Pale and faint, Mrs. Smith pointed to the inscription on the box.

It read: "Bill inside."

Hugh—Are you the girl I kissed between dances?

Irene—Which dances?

The shoe that gives your foot the fit is not the shoe that fits the foot.

Many girls often brag about making a monkey of some boy, but isn't it miraculous what they can make out of themselves with a little rouge, powder and lipstick?

The Girl's Father—Young man, the lights in this house go out at 11 o'clock.

Young Man—That suits me.

Steady boy. Those who are getting rich in Florida are not the ones who failed at home.

A golf ball has been invented for indoor practice that will travel only a few feet. Many have been playing that kind of ball for years.

If you don't want to go where it is hotter than it is here you had better start being good.

The way to get the best of an argument is not to take part in it.

The dumbest guy on earth is the fellow who thinks that All Gator is a Turkish prince.

"Where to?" said Bill Tyte to his "date."

"An amusement park!" she glowed.

So he drove out in the country. And parked beside the road.

The beerless saloon having failed to take, the suggestion now is to try saloonless beer.

Roses are red; Violets are blue; But they're much too expensive For a girl like you.

Don't let the child walk too soon. If he gets bow-legged, he'll play thunder doing the Charleston.

"A woman will go shopping whether she needs to or not," says a crit. "And come home with a very flimsy excuse done up in a parcel."

Too much of the world is run on the theory that you don't need road markers if you are a five-ton truck.

Bill—Great gobs of goldfish! How did you get that black eye?

Billum—Some guy cracked me with a ripe tomato.

"What! You don't mean to say a ripe tomato did that?"

"Yeah, this one had a can around it."

You think you have a lot of troubles, don't you?

Marbo they are marital troubles. Perhaps they are business troubles.

Purchase they are health troubles.

That's too bad, but let me tell you one thing. The only way to escape trouble is not to be born!

We can't all go away. Some one must remain at home to receive post cards.

STONE RIDGE.

Stone Ridge, Aug. 30.—There will be a clam chowder supper in the Methodist Church on Wednesday, September 1, at 6 o'clock. Supper will consist of clam chowder, white and brown bread, cabbage salad, potato salad, jelly, pickles, cake and coffee.

The Rev. George Weber will be absent during the month of September, during which time he expects to engage in evangelistic work.

And Not An Excuse

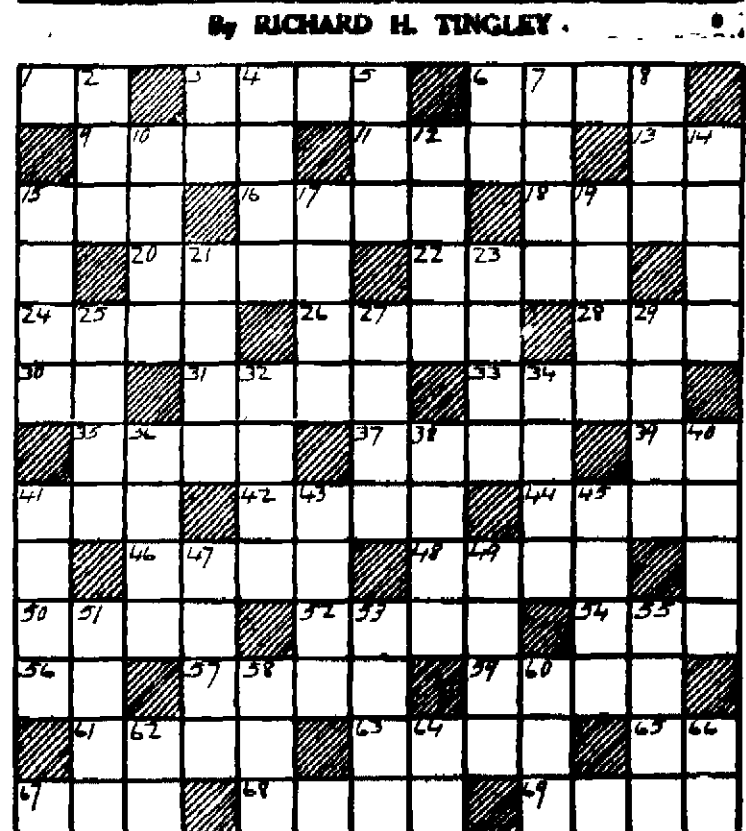

Some people will not believe that money talks until they have heard it say so.

Some Questions and Answers about United States Water-Cured Tubes

Question—What is the Water-Cure Process?

Answer—The Water-Cure Process is a new method of curing or vulcanizing automobile tubes now in use in the United States Rubber Company tube factories.

Question—How does it differ from the old process?

Answer—During vulcanization heat and pressure must be applied to the tube. The old method used steam to supply this pressure and heat. The new method uses water under high pressure and at steam temperature.

Question—Why does this make a better tube?

Answer—In the old steam method the pressure could not be applied evenly. Small air bubbles were formed in the tube, each of which became a source of weakness.

The new Water-Cure Process eliminates the possibility of such bubbles by its heavy, even pressure. It also insures better union between the tube and the valve-base, and at the same time gives the rubber itself a finer, longer-wearing, more age-resisting texture.

Question—Can water-curing alone make a good tube?

Answer—No. A good tube demands good rubber, proper construction and proper splicing as well.

Question—How are these provided in United States Tubes?

Answer—The rubber used is Sprayed Rubber, the purest and most uniform rubber known. It is made from rubber latex from the United States Rubber Company's own plantations, by a process developed and patented by the company.

United States Tubes are constructed of four plies of rubber. Most other tubes are made of one or at most two. Splicing is done by a specially developed method, which not only assures uniformly strong splices but also limits the pressure and heat to the splice itself and does not tend to weaken the rest of the tube.

Old Musical Instruments
Water, in certain circumstances, is capable of yielding extremely strong musical effects, a fact realized by the ancient Greeks, who had a number of musical instruments operated solely by water. Certain North American tribes of Indian make music by filling hollowed logs with water and beating them with sticks.

Tagging Major League Bases

A fight to oust Pittsburgh from first place in the National League, waging hotly for the past two days, in the St. Louis ballyard, so far has been a "no decision" contest.

Thousands of Cardinal fans, storming the park in the hope of seeing St. Louis climb over the Pirates from third place to their first pennant in 27 years of National League history, have seen three white-hot battles, but no change in the team positions.

Cincinnati alone has drawn benefit from the warfare and now stands in second place only four points behind Pittsburgh. The Cardinals are a full game back of the Buccaneers.

Sunday the Pirates invaded the west for the five vital contests with St. Louis and at the end of ten muddy rounds were obliged to accept a 2-2 tie. Yesterday they met in a double contest and at the end of the day each sported a victory.

Ray Kremer was invincible in the first game, holding the Cards to two lone safeties for a 2 to 0 shutout. But the second game was another thing entirely. Although the hits were few in number, they sprouted when needed and St. Louis trotted off the field with a 5 to 3 victory.

The Reds kept on their upward way yesterday, knocking the Chicago winning streak of eight games in the head with a 3 to 2 conquest. Cincinnati got eight hits to the Cubs' nine, but Pete Donohue was hurling one of his great games in the pinches after six losses in a row. The setback was a severe blow to the Chicago pennant strike, just beginning to take on serious proportions.

Heinie Mueller, with the aid of the Giants, plastered the Brooklyn clan 8 to 2 in the sectional strife. Heinie's two homers accounted for four of the New York runs, giving Hugh McQuillan a wide margin to work on.

Carlson, slim Philadelphia right-hander, blanked the Boston Braves 5 to 0. Leach had a perfect day at bat with four hits in four appearances at the plate.

The Yankees tripped before the Washington Senators 12 to 6 and saw the lead in the American shrivel to 6½ games. This may or may not mean something wrong with Cleveland struggling in their wake.

Chicago took Detroit 5 to 2, in a brilliant fielding duel. Gibson could not hold a two run lead handed him in the first inning.

LEADERS IN ESCAPE FROM MICHIGAN JAIL CAPTURED

Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 31 (P).—Benjamin Ford and Franklin Todd, convicted Toledo bank bandits, who led the jail delivery at the Michigan State Reformatory at Ionia, Mich., in which 24 convicts escaped Saturday morning, were arrested in company with two other fugitive convicts on a farm near Wauseon, thirty-five miles west of here, last night.
The escaped convicts, who accompanied Ford and Todd gave their names as Joke Rubin, 23, of Cleveland, Ohio, convicted highway robber, and Victor Chiky, 22, of Grand Rapids, Mich. None of the convicts offered any resistance when Toledo police suddenly appeared at the farm house and demanded their surrender.

SPAIN MAY RESIGN FROM LEAGUE COUNCIL

Geneva, Aug. 31 (P).—Spain's frank avowal that if she were given a proclamate over Tangier she would not insist on her claims for a permanent seat in the League of Nations council, has provoked a sensation in league circles, where it now is openly predicted that Spain will resign. Weight is lent to this by Foreign Minister Vazquez's reported statement that, if she failed to get satisfaction in Tangier, Spain would quit the league.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 31 (P).—Strength and activity of the railroad and oil shares, several of which touched new high levels, over shadowed all other developments in today's stock market. Curious cross currents of prices against rail through the general industrial list with weakness cropping out in a number of the motor chemical, motion picture, leather, paper and merchandising shares.

Pool operations were again conducted on a broad scale, despite the possibility of a temporary stiffening of money rates. With the combined July earnings of nearly 80 roads indicating that the aggregate net income of class one carriers may reach the record-breaking total of $122,000,000 for that month, rail shares attracted a large public following. Atchafon, Chesapeake and Ohio common and preferred, Southern Railway and Norfolk, and Western sold at the highest prices ever recorded, while Union Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio, Illinois Central, Canadian Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Rock Island and Delaware and Hudson sold at their best prices of the year, some of them touching the highest level in 29 years.

Oil shares, which are widely distributed throughout the country, were bid up on rumors of meekers involving some of the large independent companies, and on the prospect of higher dividend payments. With the active oil drilling season nearly over, less attention is being paid to the increased production of crude, which is offset by record breaking gasoline consumption.
Rubber shares were slow in responding to reports of record breaking production and unit sales in July, which probably will be exceeded in August. Buying again developed in a number of specialties, particularly Foundation Company, United Drug, Commercial Solvents B. and Remington Typewriter first preferred, all of which sold 3 or more points above yesterday's final quotations.

A number of closing was strong. A number of public utilities joined the high priced rails in the buoyant swing in the late afternoon. Commercial Solvent "B" extended its rise to 6 1/2. Atlantic Coast Line to 6, Atchafon to 6 1/2 and Missouri Pacific and Nickel Plate 3 to 3 1/2. American Express was up 3/4. Total sales approximated 1,800,000 shares.

Announcement Engagement.
Mrs. Rose McNerney of 6 Cottage Row announces the engagement of her daughter, Katherine Leoline Welch, to Edward Rothery, son of Mrs. Lena Rothery, of Smith Avenue.

Dullos-Frost.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Clyde Frost of St. Remy announce the marriage of their daughter, Jennie, to Lester D. Dullos, of 204 North street, Middletown, N. Y., on Saturday, August 29. Mr. Dullos is a son of the late Cornelius H. and Carrie Dullos of New Paltz, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. B. Hotchkiss of Middletown, N. Y. The bride is a registered nurse, a graduate of the City of Kingston Hospital. Mr. Dullos is a graduate of the Renouard Training School for Embalmers of New York. Mr. Dullos was one of the boys of New Paltz who enlisted and served six months overseas during the World War. Mr. and Mrs. Dullos left in the afternoon by motor for a short tour through Canada. On their return they will reside at 209 North street, Middletown, N. Y., where Mr. Dullos is assistant with Isaac J. Hasbrouck, undertaker. Mr. and Mrs. Dullos have the best wishes of a host of friends for a long and happy married life.

Haver-Davis.

The ceremony which united Miss Sarah E. Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferris J. Davis, of 59 Clinton Avenue, to Burton L. Haver, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Haver, of 53 Green street, was solemnized at noon Saturday at the home of the bride. The marriage was marked by extreme simplicity, with only the immediate families and a few friends of the bride and groom present. The Rev. F. B. Seeley, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church, performed the ceremony. After the solo, "The Butterfly," rendered by Miss Genevieve Mains, the bride and her only attendant, her sister, Miss Priscilla, entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gown in white georgette with picture hat to match. She carried a bouquet of bride roses. The maid of honor's gown was of yellow georgette with hat to match and she carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses. Mr. Haver was attended by his brother, LeVan Haver, as best man. The groom presented his bride with a string of baby pearls. His gift to the best man was a set of white gold cuff links. The bride's gift to the maid of honor was a garnet ring. After the ceremony a luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Haver left by motor for a trip through the western part of the state. They will reside at Roslyn, L. I., where Mr. Haver is a member of the high school faculty.

GUARD HERRIN'S POLLING PLACES WITH RIOT GUNS

Herrin, Ill., Aug. 31 (P).—Police guarded Herrin's four polling places with riot guns today as voters expressed their preference for city judge. Chief Griffin said he expected no trouble but thought it advisable to place guards over the polls as a precautionary measure.

The contest was between E. N. Bowen, incumbent, who aroused the enmity of the Ku Klux Klan by fixing large bonds for the late S. Glenn Young, Klan liquor raider, and his cohorts; Charles C. Murray, avowed anti-Klansman, supported by Mayor McCormack; and R. T. Cook, backed by Klansmen.

REJECTS DEMAND OF MADRID GOVERNMENT.

Paris, Aug. 31 (P).—France's reply to the recent Spanish memorandum flatly rejects the demand by the Madrid government that the international district of Tangier be included in the Spanish zone of Morocco.

The reply is understood to express surprise that the Spanish demand should also have been presented to Italy which, it says, has no interest in Morocco.

Abd-el-Krim on Way to Exile.

Marseilles, France, Aug. 31 (P).—Abd-el-Krim, the Rifian chieftain, who arrived here this afternoon, was landed after a delay caused by heavy seas. The boat which brought the desert warrior on the first part of his exile anchored off the quarantine island, Frioul Island, and the sea tug after several attempts transferred him to the island. They are to be housed there for a few days until they can be embarked on the cruiser Admiral Pierre for the island of Reunion in the Indian Ocean where the old warrior is to live out his days. The party is placed on the quarantine island in the interior mainly to isolate them and protect them from the curiosity of the populace.

Twenty Lynchings This Year.

New York, Aug. 31 (P).—Twenty lynchings have occurred in the United States so far this year, in comparison with eighteen for the entire year of 1925, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People announced today. Two white men were among the victims this year, while there was none last year, according to the figures.

Strangled To Death.

Little Falls, N. Y., Aug. 31 (P).—Police found Golda Wagner, aged 22, in her home here this afternoon, apparently the victim of strangling. Thomas Wagner, her husband, was taken into custody on an open charge, after neighbors reported a violent quarrel in the Wagner household this morning.

The DAIRY

DETERMINE VALUE OF DAIRY SIRES

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Perhaps the best way to determine the true value of the dairy bull, says the United States Department of Agriculture, is through the production records of his daughters. If a dairy bull has many daughters, and all of these excel medium to low-producing dams, the sire has a certain value; if all the daughters excel medium to high-producing dams, the true value of the bull is comparatively high; but if all the daughters excel high-producing dams, the true value of that bull is very high.

For the first time in the history of this country figures are now becoming available, through the cow-testing associations, by which the true value of thousands of dairy bulls of each dairy breed may be determined through the production records of their unselected daughters.

Department Circular 388, just issued by the bureau of dairying, United States Department of Agriculture, shows how the true value of a dairy bull may be measured by comparing the yearly production records of his daughters with the records of their dams.

In a study that compared the yearly production records of 2,182 daughters with the records of their dams, it was found that the daughters excelled the dams by 877 pounds of milk and 19 pounds of butterfat. These gains are not considered phenomenal, but with the high-average production of the dams (8,635 pounds of milk and 342 pounds of butterfat) they are very satisfactory. The gains would have been excellent had it not been for a few inferior sires whose daughters kept the average production of all the daughters down. This is the kind of sire that should be eliminated from the dairy herds of the country.

In general, the study showed that most pure-bred sires will increase the production of the daughters above that of low-producing dams. However, as the production of dams increases, better and still better sires must be used or the daughters will not excel the production records of the dams. A small increase of the daughters over high-producing dams may be a greater credit to the sire than a much larger increase over low-producing dams.

A study of 58 pure-bred bulls in cow-testing associations, each having five or more tested daughters, showed that in some cases all the daughters excelled the dams; in other cases some of the daughters excelled and others did not; and in still other cases every daughter produced less than her dam. This shows the necessity of using great care in the selection of a dairy sire.

The fact that the daughters of any sire excel their dams in production of butterfat is a very important factor, but it is not the only factor to be considered. It makes a big difference whether the production of the dam is high or low. Some sires increased the records of the daughters over fairly high-producing dams more than 40 per cent; other sires lowered the production of the daughters almost as much below that of similar dams. That does not mean, however, that all sires whose daughters failed to produce as much as their dams should be sent to the butcher; but it does mean that, if kept at all, they should be used to improve lower-producing dairy herds.

A copy of the circular may be obtained as long as the supply lasts by writing to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Best Dairy Farmers Try to Raise Winter Feeds

The dairy farmer who raises all or nearly all his feed on his own farm usually makes more profit per cow than does the neighbor who buys the feed for his dairy cattle, declares J. W. Linn, dairy specialist at the Kansas State Agricultural college. Profitable dairying on the average farm includes the growing of most of the desired feeds for the winter months, according to Linn. Profit from the cow depends largely on growing enough of the right kind of feeds, he says.

If it is impossible to grow all of the feed on the place, substitution of other feeds can be made. If a farmer has alfalfa or other roughage he needs also a grain supplement to feed the concentrated elements necessary. There is no grain, however, that can take the place of a bulky roughage as a source of carbohydrates or as a filler.

Not Good as Dairyman

The man who has been raising best cattle or sheep or who has been spending most of his life in learning how to produce big crops of corn and oats does not naturally fit into a dairyman's scheme of work. There is no doubt that dairymen pay when it is properly conducted, but the raising of many people of the above-mentioned type into the business does not solve the problem of dairy farming in this country.

News of the Day In Wall Street

New York, Aug. 31 (P).—Improvement in earnings of the Lehigh Valley Railroad which had been affected by the suspension of anthracite mining, is reflected in the report for the second quarter showing surplus of $3,721,063 equal to $3.07 a share on the common and preferred stock while surplus for the first half of 1926 amounted to $3,547,847, or $2.93 a share on the common. A year ago surplus was $4,801,966 or $3.96 a share.

Domestic crude oil production in the week ended August 28 averaged 2,139,452 barrels daily, the oil and gas journal calculates, and increase of 14,083 barrels over the preceding week.

The re-organization plan of Murray Body Corporation has been declared operative by the re-organization committee. No further deposits of securities will be received after September 27 except under penalty, it was announced, other than in instances in which the committee is satisfied that circumstance warrant a waiver of the penalty.

TWO HUNDRED DROWN AS RUSSIAN STEAMER SINKS

Cronstadt, Russia, Aug. 31 (P).—Estimates of the loss of life in the sinking of the steamer Burevestnik continue to grow. It is now reported more than 200 of the 563 passengers aboard were drowned in the foundering of the craft off the east of the ship canal on Sunday night.

The excursion steamer leaving Leningrad had just emerged from the Ship Canal in a thick fog when a German freighter loomed up out of the dark. To avoid the collision the Russian ship was turned sharply from her course and crashed into a stone pier, ripping a great hole in her bow. She sank in less than fifteen minutes and in the fog and the dark the work of rescue was greatly hampered. The regular captain was not on board and the first officer who was in charge saved himself but his wife and two children perished. They were in a locked cabin, the key to which the officer carried in his pocket. The Burevestnik had only one life boat and 172 life belts for 563 passengers.

In the wild panic that ensued after the crash many terror-stricken passengers clambered frantically up the slender masts of the steamer which collapsed under their weight. A great mob rushed for the single boat that the German freighter sent to the rescue and it sank under the numbers that jumped into it.

STATE TROOPERS PROTECT MANVILLE TEXTILE MILLS

Manville, R. I., Aug. 31 (P).—State troopers and a strong force of deputy sheriffs and local police were in charge of the Manville Jencks Company's textile mills here today, following a day of disorders prompted by the arrival of strike breakers. The establishment of a deadline and threat to read the riot act ended the most serious disorders, but fighting between the police and a large number of the 1,700 striking operatives and sympathizers broke out last night when a man attempted to halt an armored car leaving the mills. Several strikers, including a woman, reported they had been clubbed when officers charged the crowd. Sporadic stone throwing followed the outbreak and a strong police guard was held through the night on rumors of another attempt to fire the plant.

TEN O'CLOCK LAW FOR CHILDREN AT CHICAGO

Chicago, Aug. 31 (P).—Chicago today became a ten o'clock town for all children under 16 years of age. Resurrecting a three-year-old city ordinance, Chief of Police Morgan A. Collins, directed police to arrest all children under that age found on the streets between ten p. m. and six a. m., and unaccompanied by parents.

Parents of such children will be subjected to fine, and the children after the second offense, will be dealt with as juvenile delinquents. The action followed enforcement throughout the county, starting last night at a 10:30 curfew for girls under 18.

"Ma" Has Given 2,333 Pardons

Austin, Tex., Aug. 31 (P).—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson has issued 2,333 clemency proclamations to prisoners since she was elected governor 20 months ago, according to records in the office of the secretary of state.

The records show that 24 have been issued in the last five days and 600 since Governor Ferguson announced her candidacy for re-election on April 6. She was defeated for the Democratic nomination, tantamount to election in Texas, by Attorney-General Dan Moody in the run-off primary held last Saturday.

HIGH FALLS.

High Falls, Aug. 31.—On Sunday, September 5, Ernest Palen will occupy the pulpit of the Reformed Church. There will also be a supply the following Sunday, September 12. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Coddington of Ossining, who have been spending two weeks at the Rockcliff House, returned to their home on Sunday. Mr. Coddington's father, Jesse Coddington, who spent two weeks with relatives here, accompanied them home.

Miss Helen Powell of Schenectady, has been the guest of Mrs. M. E. Sheeley for a few days.

Northwestern Australia

Tribal Markings of Native of Northwest Australia.

COMMERCIAL, northwestern Australia burst out of obscurity during the last generation or so and became an important region on the map, for it is the center of the world's mother-of-pearl industry and a considerable contributor to the store of pearls and gold. Eleven million dollars' worth of mother-of-pearl shell and three million dollars' worth of pearls were won, in a period of ten years, from the waters of the Indian ocean which lap its shores.
The country is still known chiefly, however, by the products which it sends out. Fifty-odd years ago there was not a single European settlement in this vast section of Australia, and even now the census returns give a population of less than 7,000 souls, exclusive of aborigines.
From 1628 the northwest coast was visited by many bold mariners, including De Witt and William Dampier, but it was not until 1837 that the first definite attempt at exploration was undertaken by Capt. George Grey—an attempt that was only partly successful. The first pastoral settlement in the Roebuck bay district was established in 1833, and in 1879 Alexander Forrest made his memorable trip, via Beagle bay and King sound, to the Fitzroy and Margaret rivers.
In 1882 Sir John Forrest of Bunbury, the noted Australian explorer and statesman, made an investigation in this division, and shortly afterward Hall and Slatery discovered the first payable gold in the country at Hall's creek. Then, definite settlement of this great tract of country really began.
The latest expedition for the exploration of the region was made within the past few years in a small schooner, the Culwulla, from Broome. A run of 90 miles along the coast brought the party to Ledge point, where a visit was made to Beagle Bay Mission station, established thirty years ago by a Spanish religious order. There are 250 blacks permanently at the station, while tribes from the outlying districts make it occasional visits. This mission controls 10,000 acres of land, has several thousand cattle and hundreds of goats and pigs. Coconut and date palms flourish and water is obtained by sinking deep wells.
Plenty of Edible Fish.
North of Beagle bay is Chill creek, where there is a 25-foot tide. At the ebb the waters recede nearly seven miles. Under the mangrove trees which fringe the coast there are millions of crabs. Some are bright blue, others scarlet—all about the size of a 50-cent piece—while large crabs, three inches long and of a yellow color, simply swarm over the sand.
The fisheries wealth of this coast is remarkable. Every inlet and river teeming with valuable edible fish. At Broome a system of catching fish by means of traps is in vogue. The traps are made of wire netting, with wings which form a race. The tide does the work. The traps are covered at high tide, and when the water rushes out, fish are swept into the wire, being caught by the tail.
At Tyne Island, which is reached through wild and swirling tides, M. d'Antofne, a Frenchman, has lived among the blacks for more than thirty years. He owns a jagger, lives in a bark hut, and has a retinue of some 80 blacks—men, women and children. As a typical beachcomber, he is far from being the picturesque figure that many writers about tropical lands and lakes describe.
At the entrance to King sound there is a group of islands known as the Successor archipelago. On Sunday Island, one of this group, Sydney Haller has a mission station, where he william the black girls (women) for collecting the trochus shell, which he ships away. It is from the trochus shell that so-called pearl buttons are made—st. industry carried on in France and Japan.
North from the sound lies the "Graveyard," the bete noire of the skippers of the coast, where tiny islands and dangerous reefs are sprinkled all over the sea. Captain Johnson took the Culwulla through the Graveyard and passed safely to the more tricky Whirlpool pass, where the little craft made three complete turns in the comparatively narrow channel a little more than four miles in length. At times this pass is quite unpassable. Its banks are more than 300 feet high in places, very rocky, and run sheer down. The rise and fall of tide here is 35 feet.
Hunting the Dugong.
At Dugong bay, an inlet in Collier bay, several splendid specimens of the sea cow or dugong were captured. The hunting of the dugong was carried on by four enormous blacks who joined the party at Sunday Island. They proved a great asset as good workers and as interpreters when the party met strange blacks. At times, however, the Sunday Islanders were foiled, as aborigines in different localities speak different dialects.
The dugong is caught like the whale, but, owing to the great thickness of its hide, many spears are turned and broken; so the hunting is not always carried out with success. This mammal is believed by some to have suggested the idea of the mermaid, because it holds its young to its breast and suckles it. The flesh has a flavor akin to both beef and pork, and it is eaten by whites and blacks alike. The meat is used like bacon, fine leather is made from the hide, and the oil obtained from the animal possesses valuable medicinal qualities, having extraordinary powers of penetration.
The Sunday Islanders speared a splendid specimen that measured fully 12 feet in length and weighed nearly 600 pounds.
Butcher Inlet provides another remarkable illustration of the power of the tides on the northwest coast, as 50 miles inland the rise and fall is 18 feet, while at the entrance the fluctuation is 30 feet.
Montgomery Island is one of several small bits of land dotted among the dangerous coral reefs which strew the coast for miles north of Butcher Inlet. On this island the blacks are noted for the remarkable way they ornament their bodies by means of cicatrices. Their markings are said to be the most unusual in Australia. The skin is cut with a sharp shell, and mud, obtained from around the roots of the mangrove scrub which grows in the salt water, is then rubbed repeatedly into the wound. Tribal marks are made thus, and each man carries his visiting card on his body.
Good Work at Port George.
Some excellent pioneer work is being accomplished at Port George mission by Messrs. Wilson and Paton, who, with their wives, have produced a veritable Garden of Eden, with tropical fruits, flowers and vegetables. They have many goats and fowls. The surrounding country is well grassed and fed by fresh running streams.
The blacks in this section are reputed to be a quarrelsome lot, but Mr. Wilson reports that the quarrels are tribal affairs and he has never been molested. These aborigines carry a distinct strain of Malay blood, which is the case with many tribes on the northern coast of Australia, as Malays have frequented the northern seaboard for centuries in search of pearl shell and sea slugs (trepan). which find a ready sale in markets of the Far East.
Sea snakes are frequently seen curled up asleep on the surface of the water. These reptiles are poisonous and grow to about 12 feet in length.
The run from Admiralty gulf to Napier Broome bay is full of navigation difficulties, since many reefs and small islands abound. At Long Island several wild men were induced to come aboard the schooner. They were very tall and wore no clothing whatever. Their only adornment being out-dressed tribal markings and long chin whiskers.
This country had a streak of luck when Florida and California were hit two thousand miles apart.

Crowds Attend Dutchess Fair

Over four hundred children attended the opening of the Dutchess county fair at Rhinebeck on Monday. The events in the afternoon and evening attracted a great crowd and the fair this year promises to eclipse all former events.
Monday afternoon there was fast horse racing on the program together with horseshoe pitching and free daterdevil acts. In the evening a grand pageant of floats and automobiles, fireworks and dancing pleased a great crowd.
The exhibits this year are more numerous than in previous years and the quality in many cases surpasses former displays.
This afternoon and again Wednesday there will be a big dog show, in addition to the usual free features.
The racing events for Wednesday and Thursday follows. Wednesday, 2:22 pace, $600; 2:12 pace, $400; 2:17 trot, $600. Thursday, 2:12 trot, $400; 2:18 pace, $600; 2:30 county trot or pace, $400.
The special features for Friday are whippet racing and baseball games between Dover and Millbrook and the winner vs. Beckwiths.
There is free parking space inside the grounds with the state troopers in charge. Victor's Luna Park Military Band furnishes the music every day.

MUSICAL PROGRAM AT SAHLER SANITARIUM

The last of the August programs at the Sahler Sanitarium, under the direction of Miss Clara Almee Gottschalk, pianist and teacher of New York, was given Sunday evening, in connection with the service which was conducted by the Rev. Anthony Callandro, in charge of an Italian congregation—The United Presbyterian Church of West New York, New Jersey. Mr. and Mrs. Callandro stopped at the sanitarium on their motor trip down from Lake George, in which section they have been camping. Mrs. Callandro, a daughter of Professor G. H. Donaldson, Ph. D., whose interesting lectures at the Sahler Sanitarium earlier in the summer, delighted his audience, is a very able violinist, known on the concert stage as Dorothy Donaldson Callandro, and a teacher. She is a pupil of Philip Mittell, of New York, and a graduate of The American Orchestral Society of New York city, an organization founded for the training of young musicians in orchestral playing. Each group of this orchestra, has a professional "First" or "Leader," and under the scholarly leadership of Chalmers Clifton, this orchestra has made rapid strides, and is rising to fine public performances, a series of which is given each season. Mrs. Callandro contributed generously to the evening with a delightful group of violin solos, with Miss Gottschalk at the piano. They were played with a fullness of tone and a refinement of taste that revealed true musicianship.
The program follows in full:
